

Frankfort, Mokena Voters To Name Board Tuesday

Mokena has no contest in its village election next Tuesday but in Frankfort there are four contestants for the three places to be filled. Frankfort also will vote on the proposed establishment of a police protection tax.

Herbert Folkers, an attorney, is one of those seeking a place on the village board. Other candidates are Wayne DePorto, a printer, Clyde Reils, an automobile mechanic and John Topp, a retired maintenance of way foreman.

Three of the four are to be elected to fill the place now held by Adam Heuser, Clarence Heiser and Leroy Hansen. None of the three evinced any desire to run this year.

The three candidates for trustees for the village of Mokena are, Lyman T. Teague, Willard Munch and Ray Westlund. Mr. Teague, an insurance man, is a member of the board of trustees and is seeking re-election. Mr. Munch is employed by the Bedford Construction company in Chicago, and Mr. Westlund is associated with the Semmler Newspapers. The three candidates are unopposed.

The police protection tax to be voted on at Frankfort is necessary, according to village authorities. The village is now up to its tax limit for general corporate purposes, according to Village Clerk Walter Pfaff. Approximately $3,600 a year is derived from taxes. Mr. Pfaff said, and added that this amount is insufficient to meet other village expenses and pay the salary of a policeman.

At present the village pays $75 a month toward the salary of its police officer and the remainder of his pay comes from the merchants.

Mr. Pfaff said that if the police protection tax is approved it will bring in approximately $2,600 a year—a sum in itself that is inadequate to pay the salary of a police officer and maintain a car, it was pointed out, but it will help.

All municipalities, large or small, are finding it difficult to stretch funds to meet expenses—a situation familiar enough to most individuals and families—in the face of rising prices. Some of the villages, it is said, maintain their police on what might be termed a "bounty system." They declare open season on all motorists—with special attention directed against strangers—and carry on a steady campaign of arrests for alleged violation of traffic laws. Some of these violations, it is claimed, are rather sketchy and make for "bustling arrests." The fines collected are used to finance the police department as well as augment the village treasury, hence the term bounty.

Frankfort officials, it was pointed out, are opposed to the operation of a speed or traffic trap in that village in order to add to its income.

Village Clerk Pfaff said that a Frankfort resident whose tax bill is now $100 a year would pay an additional $4.50 or a total of $104.50 a year, if the police protection tax is approved.

RESULTS OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS VOTE IN SATURDAY'S ELECTION

At Saturday's election, three board members were elected to the Lincoln-Way high school board, District 210, which serves Frankfort and New Lenox townships and a portion of Manhattan townships. Re-elected for three-year terms were two incumbents, Lester Case and Ray Reiter. Case polled 306 votes and Reiter polled 319. Lorin Schleeter of Manhattan, was elected to fill the unexpired term of George Bovee, formerly of Manhattan, who has moved out of the district. Schleeter polled 320 votes. His term has two years to run.

In District 122, the grade school of New Lenox, J. Earl Robinson, incumbent, polled 43 votes. Dr. L. M. Webb, also an incumbent, polled 48 votes. Robert C. Park was named to fill an unexpired two-year term. He, too, polled 43 votes.

Accepted For Nurse Course At Silver Cross Hospital

Eleanor Hammond, New Lenox, a senior at Joliet township high school, has been accepted by Silver Cross School of Nursing for the class which will start August 30. Three other seniors from JTHS were accepted at the same time.

Betty Schultz, Tinley Park, a senior at Carl Sandburg high school passed, with 14 others, the first pre-entrance tests for Silver Cross.

Commencement for graduates of Silver Cross School of Nursing will be held August 23 instead of some time in June, for the first time in over 60 years. The change was made at the request of students who felt that holding graduation exercises two months in advance of the end of their three year nursing course made completion of their work something of an anti-climax. Miss Adeline M. Jorstad, director of nurses, explained.

A new nursing school catalog has been published and is available on request, with application blanks and other literature.

SELL TICKETS FOR FRANKFORT BAND CONCERT

The Frankfort grade school band will give its second annual concert Sunday afternoon, April 24 at 3 o'clock with Director William Reed in charge.

Tickets for the concert are now being sold by the grade school children and the committee in charge are hopeful for a sell out.

Mrs. Rudolph Guzik, president of the Frankfort Community Band Parents, points out that music is one of the first ways a child expresses himself and the opportunities offered by the band to further a knowledge as well as an appreciation of music are unlimited.

"A child grows up with rhythm and music," Mrs. Guzik said. "Even without an instrument, he makes his own music, by whistling or singing."

"Those who learn to express their moods by making music are fortunate, indeed," Mrs. Guzik continued. "With friends, in the family group, in the community, life is fuller and ties are closer with music."

"In a recent national survey," she went on, "it was found that one person in eight played an instrument. Six out of 10 who don't play an instrument wished they could. Ninety-five per cent of those interviewed said they were in favor of all children having musical training; 85 percent said that music should be taught in the schools the same as any other subject."

"As a result the music education national conference has developed a basic music curriculum that has its beginning in kindergarten."

"Music has its physical as well as its cultural benefits," Mrs. Guzik added, pointing out that of the wind instruments, which constitute practically all of a band, provide excellent exercise of the lungs and practice in breath control as well.

"In group practice," Mrs. Guzik continued, "the child learns to work with others. He develops the ethical value of character and learns the benefit of discipline, integrity and punctuality. In learning music, children truly learn to live."

"Unfortunately, only a small per cent of our children get musical training in school, and if he does not begin before he is 15, it is not likely that he will start."

"We, as band parents, are trying to alert the public to the fact that music and instrument study constitute one of the finest educational subjects open to our youth."

"Pink Magic" deals with the problem of a teen age "ugly duckling," groping her way thru the maze of young romance. And viewers who can really look back on themselves, should be able to recall the joys and heartaches of those years.

The music and color of the old Mexico setting of the play will add gaiety to the entertainment. Curtain time is 8 o'clock, Friday and Saturday nights. Tickets may be purchased from seniors, members of the Dramatic club or at the door.

Mokena Kiddies Have Grand Time At Easter Egg Hunt

About 300 youngsters of school and pre-school age gathered at the old village park in Mokena at about 2:30 Sunday afternoon, for the traditional Easter egg hunt. Some 33 dozen brightly colored eggs had been hidden around the park by the Mokena Lions, who sponsored the hunt.

Eggs with the highest value were the tiny parakeet eggs. Finder of the No. 1 parakeet egg was Andy Robinson. The prize awarded was a parakeet. Lloyd Roemer came up with an egg valued at $2 and Linda Clark won $1 for her diligence, and luck in the hunt.

Taped to many of the ordinary hen's eggs were pennies, nickels and dimes, and shouts of glee arose whenever one of these was found. The children had a grand time and the weather, as everybody knows, was like a day in midsummer, one of the balmiest Easter Sundays on record.

Some 500 youngsters took part in the egg hunt staged by Valley View Farm restaurant Sunday and it took considerable time before the main prizes were found.

The contest was open to all youngsters and Donald Alexander, 311 N. Wolf rd., Mokena, won the major prize, a golden egg that was worth $25 to the finder. Donald made his find at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon after a long search.

The silver egg, the second prize was found about an hour earlier by Allen Sluiter of Frankfort. Allen's prize was a baby lamb. There were many other prizes distributed.

The plot thickens with the arrival of the mysterious lady of fashion, Muriel Atkins.

Mr. Kries was pastor of St. John's church until 1925 when he took over a pastorate at Dalton, Ill. After her husband died in 1932 Mrs. Kries returned to Mokena to make her home, residing next door to her daughter, Alfreda, Mrs. Kropp.

Besides this daughter Mrs. Kries also is survived by a son, Arthur, of Joliet, two foster daughters, Mrs. Herta Packard of Chicago, and Mrs. Henry Brinkmeyer of Springfield, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Kries, who was a very friendly person and liked by all in the community, belonged to St. John's Women's guild and St. John's church. She had been in ill health for several years but had been able to carry on with most of her activities.

Recently her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kropp went to California on a vacation and Mrs. Kries took up her residence in their home. Last week she suffered a stroke and went into a coma. Mr. and Mrs. Kropp returned immediately after receiving word of Mrs. Kries' condition. They arrived two hours after Mrs. Kries died.

L-W Shorthand Students Win In National Contest

Lincoln-Way students have won various awards in the 42nd OGA contest. The shorthand contest, sponsored by the Gregg Publishing company of New York City, is held each year. Students winning the highest award are: Mary Alton, Frances Bajorinas, Peggy Black, Betty Brynmeyer, Marilyn Landro, Judy Lane, Karen Piepenbrink, Carole Stockley, Violet Teske and Claudia Thomas. These students are also winners of superior merit certificates. Each of these students was awarded the OGA pin. Twenty-three students won the OGA certificate. They are now awaiting the final results to see what school prize will be awarded for their success in this contest.

The contest committee is composed of Robert E. Slaughter, Henry Boer, Ann G. Kovacs, Katherine Schroeder, Gertrude Peters, Frances Sheridan and Florence Elaine Ulrich, contest chair man.

The papers have to be approved first by the instructor. After J. Bryce Sardiga went over them they were mailed to New York for the final judging. The honor is a singular one, as students started to work on their notes, in their spare time, after Christmas and the papers were in the hands of the committee by March first. It was hours of extra work, but everybody feels it was worth the time and effort.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Advice to the high school class of 1955:

If you want to cash in on today's shortage of technically-trained personnel, spend the next four years in college. The shortage is probably still continuing in some fields, especially teaching, it will become more acute.

This is the opinion of placement officers at the University of Illinois.

First and second grade pupils of Will County are to be inoculated against polio with the Salk vaccine, which on Tuesday was given approval by medical authorities following a complete report on tests conducted throughout the nation.

These tests, it was stated, showed the vaccine to be 80 to 90 per cent effective against polio. Some think that when uniform methods are followed in its use, that effectiveness will be increased.

Vaccination against smallpox, for example, is rated at 95 per cent plus, so that one can see from this that the Salk vaccine is really efficient, it was pointed out.

SEEK DONATIONS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST CANCER

The Will County chapter of the American Cancer society has once again called upon the various towns and communities to participate in their drive to fight cancer. The drive will be in effect the entire month of April and the committee in charge hopes that everyone in the Mokena area will be able to make a contribution, large or small, in order that we may fight this dreadful disease. It is a voluntary association of people who participate in its work and contribute to its activities in the belief that we can and will defeat cancer.

When and how the inoculation will be carried out in Will county has not been determined yet.

The Will-Grundy County Medical society, of which Dr. Lewis Woodruff of Joliet is president, is to meet Thursday noon, at the Hotel Louis Joliet and the question of how the process of inoculating the first and second graders will be brought up for discussion.

Dr. L. L. Fatheree, head of the Will county health department, said he is waiting to see what action will be taken at the medical society meeting.

The supply of vaccine is at hand. There is enough of it in Chicago for distribution among the neighboring counties, it was reported. When it is decided how the vaccine is to be used in Will county, the amount necessary will be drawn and distributed.

The National Foundation for control of infantile paralysis, which is paying for the vaccine to be given to first and second grade pupils, is recommending mass inoculation.

From conversation with various Will county physicians they are opposed to such a procedure. They do not think it good practice to have youngsters to stand in line and watch those ahead of them getting shots. They also pointed out that some children are unable to tolerate the vaccine and therefore, before shots are given some of the youngsters must be interrogated and questioned.

In the test inoculations given in Will county last fall, 2,500 youngsters were treated, according to Dr. John Carey, president of the Will county chapter of the national foundation for polio, and the work was all done thru the offices of physicians. Eight offices were used and parents had an opportunity to say where the child should take his shots. Dr. Carey said that from what he had heard from other doctors in Will county, they were in favor of conducting the new program along the same lines as used in the tests last fall.

There are 6,603 children in the first and second grades in Will county public and parochial schools.

In this area the test inoculations were carried out at the Hedges clinic in Frankfort.

YOUR FAMILY DESERVES A GOOD SETTING

Make sure the food you serve your family pleases their eyes as well as their stomachs.

Miss Mary McAuley, foods specialist at the University of Illinois, says if your table and meals are attractive and inviting you won't have to combat lagging appetites.

It's not expensive to set the table attractively. You can get plain but well-designed china and glasses to fit every budget. The same holds true for place mats. They add color and can help to set off your china.

Use your imagination to surprise your family with a centerpiece for your table. It need not cost anything. Use some fruit, nicely arranged on a plate, or one of the pretty plants from your flower window. Try colored eggs in a shredded paper nest for Easter.

And how about the food? Miss McAuley says she knows of no better way to make a meal appealing than to serve good food that is well seasoned. Although there is nothing like an old family favorite, she suggests planning for variety too. There's a wealth of ideas for new dishes in newspapers and magazines, on radio and TV. Why not surprise your family with a new dish?

L-W NINE FACES CHAMPIONS IN SEASON OPENER

Lincoln-Way's baseball season gets underway this afternoon when the team coached by Jonas Lashmet takes the field for the first time. It is to play Oak Lawn, the defending conference champions at the L-W diamond at 3:30.

Lashmet, who played ball at Illinois Normal university and coached the sport for two years at Staunton before joining the L-W faculty, describes his outfit as a "young team," being made up largely of freshmen and sophomores.

And as is natural with coaches, Mr. Lashmet's views of his team's future successes, including its chances against Oak Lawn this afternoon, are on the dim if not dark side.

That there is interest in baseball in the school was attested by the fact that 70 answered the first call for material a few weeks ago. This number has been reduced now to 25.

Mr. Lashmet is hopeful that in another year or two he will have, something to cause other coaches in the Southwest Suburban conference to reach for the soda and mint compounds when they think of Lincoln-Way. But right now he says he doesn't think he has any of them worried.

Coach Lashmet has four on his mound staff as present, Richard Bailey, a sophomore from Manhattan; David Zecklin, a Mokena freshman and Allen Mager and Dennis Wheeler, sophomores from Frankfort. Those that have watched the boys working out this spring say that young Zecklin has quite a little stuff on the ball. All are likely to get a chance to work today.

There are three marked down for duty behind the plate, Bill Heidrich, a junior from New Lenox; Delbert Yunker, of Mokena, a freshman, and Don Ingham, of Manhattan, a senior. Melchers Clover Farm, Mark Schellenberg, a junior, is scheduled to start at first base; Ron Studnick, of Lincoln Estates, a sophomore, is at second; Jerry Moede, a senior, of New Lenox, is at short and Phil Harris, a sophomore from Manhattan, is at third.

The next game will be next Monday, April 18, at Bremen high school.

SOFTBALL LOOP AT TINLEY TO GET ORGANIZED

There is to be a meeting of sponsors of a 16-inch softball league in Tinley Park next Thursday night, April 21, at which time it is the hope of those in charge that the roster of teams will be complete and regulations drawn for the conduct of the circuit.

The meeting is to be held at the home of William R. McBurney at 17845 Ridgeland ave., at 8 p.m. There are now seven sponsors and one more is needed, as there are to be eight teams in the league.

At a meeting held in the McBurney home Tuesday night a request was drawn up which will be presented to the village board, asking permission for the league to use the softball field in the village park three nights a week during the playing season.

Study Citizenship Training Program

Ralph Wright, Earl Dieken, and Charles Ellerman of the Lincoln-Way faculty attended a two-day citizenship education workshop at the University of Chicago on March 31 and April 1. This was a leadership training program to insure the continuation of a citizenship education project which was launched by President Eisenhower when he was president of Columbia university in 1949. The Carnegie foundation has contributed financially to this program during the past six years. This year the financial assistance is to be discontinued and each school will need to carry on the program on its own.

The citizenship education program's principal aim is to help all teachers improve citizenship education. It suggests hundreds of practical ways for students to gain actual experience in practicing citizenship in all parts of the county.

This leadership team is making plans to discuss teaching practices at spring workshop June 6th to June 10th.

Baseball Team Begins Drills At Tinley Park

Baseball practice for the season will get under way Sunday afternoon, April 17 at 2 p.m. in the Ray Zimmerman Memorial Park in Tinley. Anyone interested in trying out for the team is urged to attend the first practice. Lester Rump will be the manager this year.

South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District Outlines Plan Of Operation

The South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District recently completed a review of its proposed plan of operations with a group of local and national authorities on mosquitoes and their control.

Dr. Harold F. Gray, co-author of the internationally known textbook "Mosquito Control" and dean of organized mosquito control in California; Dr. William R. Horsfall, Professor, Department of Entomology, University of Illinois, and A. J. Steffen, former chief of the Sanitary Engineering Section, 6th Service Command, U. S. Army, expressed approval of the District's plan to place primary emphasis on the abatement of mosquitoes of the area while those pests are "immature, concentrated, and accessible"—that is, during the period of their life that must be spent in water.

The South Cook County Mosquito Abatement District presented its basic work program for 1955 as follows:

1. The location of areas within the 360 square miles of the District that are subject to permanent or periodic flooding.
2. Inspection of these areas to detect the presence of mosquito larva, commonly known as "wigglers."
3. Treating areas found to contain "wigglers" at the earliest practicable date.

Certain phases of the mapping work are under way and as additional personnel are obtained the District will provide training in the techniques of surveys and other mosquito abatement methods.

The District has acquired 16 pieces of mobile equipment for the control work and plans to have these and additional hand equipment in full operation as training and surveys proceed.

During the meeting it was also brought out that the District might render a valuable, co-operative service by making data gathered in its survey available for use by locally organized groups planning to do independent control work in the District this year.

First Electrolytic Cobalt

The first commercial production of electrolytic cobalt in Canada was recently initiated by International Nickel at its Port Colborne, Ontario, refinery. The company's new electrolytic process for the production of this metal was developed after extensive research and pilot plant studies. Electrolytic cobalt is particularly useful in the manufacture of alloys where high purity is advantageous, such as in the cobalt-nickel-chromium alloys as applied to the jet aircraft engine.

TAX FACTS

By George J. Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois is taking a taxpayer opinion poll to determine its policy on the governor's request for a one cent increase for one year in the state retailers' occupation tax.

A questionnaire and return postal card ballot form has been mailed to 12,200 taxpayers scattered throughout the state by the federation in line with its program of determining policy on basic issues from the grass-roots up.

"The Taxpayers' Federation states, however, the questionnaire points out, 'that the only possible alternative to increased revenue would be curtailment of state services. The state has been spending more than its income since 1947, living off the surplus accumulated during the war years; that surplus is now about gone. To continue the existing level of state aid for schools will require an increase of around $46,000,000 for the next biennium due to increased enrollments. Demands for increases from state colleges and universities, from the department of public welfare, for public aid, etc., etc., add up to additional multi-million dollar increases. Not all demands, obviously, are warranted, but some increases are warranted and inevitable."

Despite the above, the questionnaire asks, if one believes that the Taxpayers' Federation should oppose any new or increased state tax whatsoever? Does he believe that the federation should oppose any new or increased tax that is temporary (that does not have a definite expiration date to force reconsideration by the next general assembly in 1957)?

With respect to the nature of any tax increase, the questionnaire continues, "would you favor enactment of a 2% use tax on purchases made outside Illinois for use and consumption in Illinois to supplement the present 2% Retailers' Occupation Tax (sales tax), in preference to an increase in the 2% R.O.T. rate? Pointing out that a use tax would not produce enough revenue to solve the state's financial problems, the questionnaire also asks whether legislation to broaden the base of the R.O.T. would be preferable to an increase in the R.O.T. rate. The final question is, if it develops that an increase in the R.O.T. rate is going to be voted, would you prefer a 1% increase for one year or a 1/2% increase for two years?"

The results of the poll will be published by the Federation.

A modern highway system leads into and through Acadia National Park, which is 47 miles southeast of Bangor, Maine. Dominating the park are the ancient rounded peaks of the Mount Desert Mountains, worn down by centuries of disintegration and by the glaciers of the ice age. Great cliffs, undermined by the pounding surf at their bases, rise vertically from the ocean.

The granite peaks, of which there are more than a dozen, are heavily forested with pine, hemlock, spruce, cedar. Between two and three hundred varieties of wild flowers are found. Fresh water lakes lie in the hollows. The park is a wildlife sanctuary for birds, animals and plants.

Hogs infected with influenza will not eat, and they will be listless, have a high fever, cough and breathe with difficulty.

Medics Alert Public To Danger Of Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis is not a seasonal disease. Because it may develop at any time, everyone should be alerted to the dangers of this destructive disease, the educational committee of the Illinois State Medical society cautions in Health Talk.

Because the disease has always attacked heaviest in age group from fifteen to forty-four, it is a menace to persons gaining their full economic stature. With the wage earner gone, the family faces the problem of economic dependence.

Tuberculosis is a germ disease. Caused by the tubercle bacillus, the disease invades the system slowly, destroying the tissue. It is not an inherited disease, but seems to attack the person whose body resistance is low. A person harboring the germ can innocently pass it on to another through coughing, for example.

Fatigue, inadequate food, improper rest, late hours are all factors that increase the susceptibility of the body to the development of tuberculosis.

If found early enough, the patient with tuberculosis may not have to alter his living habits noticeably, nor be removed from his family. Under the supervision of a physician, his living habits will become more temperate and more rest each day will be in order. That is why early detection is important. On the other hand, the person with advanced tuberculosis may have to spend months or years in a sanatorium, or may die of it.

Because early detection is important, the wise person will have an x-ray film taken of his chest periodically. A tuberculin test should also be taken.

Clean, dry quarters will help keep influenza away from your hogs.

WILL DISCUSS SOIL PROBLEMS

Charles S. Fletcher, soil conservation service technician for the South Cook county soil conservation district, today announced he will be available each Monday morning from 9:00 a.m. until 12 noon for office interviews at the Farm Bureau building in Tinley Park. Any farm owner or operator who has a soil erosion or water problem on his farm on which he needs technical advice, may discuss that problem with Mr. Fletcher.

The directors of the district are Donald Doctor, James Heatherwick, Arthur Brandau, Howard Miller and William Stelter. The South Cook county soil conservation district, a locally operated non-taxing organization, was formed under state laws for the purpose of helping and encouraging landowners to combat soil erosion and drainage problems on their farms, and to use each acre of agricultural land within its capabilities.

OFFER DAIRY TECHNOLOGY SCHOLARSHIPS

Young men who are thinking about going to college have a two-edged opportunity this fall if they are interested in the dairy technology field.

In announcing 12 scholarships worth $1,000 each, P. H. Tracy, head of dairy technology at the University of Illinois, says the demand for dairy technologists is far greater than the supply. In addition to getting training for a well-paying job after graduation, they may get $1,000 help in getting the education they need.

Details on the scholarships and opportunities in the field have been received in Assistant Farm Adviser William F. Whiteside's office and he invites young men to come in and talk over the possibilities.

The scholarships, Whiteside says, will be paid over a period of four years. Application blanks can be obtained from your high school principal.

As in any other fields in agriculture, the demand for men in dairy technology is growing faster than agricultural college enrollment. Whiteside says it has been estimated that five years from now there will be two jobs waiting for each graduate of a college of agriculture.

He urges all high school seniors to consider seriously the possibility of going to college.

Neighboring Farmers In TV Appearance

The sheep raiser's interest in producing quality wool was discussed on "Farmtown, U.S.A.", when three Grundy county farmers visited George Menard, master of ceremonies for the weekly half-hour television show. Two sheep were sheared during the program.

"Farmtown, U.S.A." is seen at 2 p.m. each Sunday on channel 2. It is presented as a public service feature by the CBS education department in cooperation with the Illinois Agricultural association and the Pure Milk association.

Guests on the show Sunday were Vernon Sorenson, Jr., 19-year-old farmer who is a veteran of 10 years' experience in 4-H. Besides farming 160 acres, Sorenson finds time to shear sheep, serve as a wool buyer for the Grundy county farm bureau, and produce registered Dorset sheep.

Bob Davies, Verona, is a former 4-H member who raises Hampshire sheep. Perry Clause, Mazon, shows a breed of sheep new to this part of Illinois, known as Monodales.

When a red traffic light turns green, motorists should still be waiting, stopped behind the crosswalk. Starting up before the light is fully green leads to accidents.

Families Sign Up

For Farm and Home

Program in Cook

Several families have signed up for the Farm and Home Development Program in Cook county. Assistant Farm Adviser William F. Whiteside says they will be able to accommodate 10 more families.

Interested families are invited to contact either the farm adviser or the home adviser. "Asking for information about the program will not obligate you in any way," Whiteside says. "We are happy to talk the program over with families whether or not they go along with it."

Main objective of the program is to help farm families apply information to the over-all operation of the farm and home as one unit. "Too often we attack our problems as individuals," Whiteside says. "Actually all the problems fit together."

The program has two distinct phases, Whiteside explains: developing a good plan that fits you and your family, and getting that plan into operation. A good plan will help you decide where you are going and will help make it easier to decide some of the important questions that come up.

In the farm and home development program, you'll have the help of publications of the University of Illinois besides individual help from extension workers.

Propose Law Change To Aid Handicapped

Amendment of the Illinois Workmen's Compensation act to encourage hiring of handicapped persons by shifting accident compensation payments from employers to a state fund will be sought in the present session of the state legislature.

According to Charles M. O'Brien, co-chairman of the All-Illinois Committee to amend the act, a two-year study by the heads of more than a dozen interested agencies has resulted in a "workable plan that, when adopted in Illinois, can serve as a model for similar legislation throughout the country." At present, he said, all states have workmen's compensation laws that discourage employment of persons with pre-existing handicaps.

O'Brien pointed out that the suggested amendment changes no rights of the employee or responsibilities of the employer. The amendment merely provides for compensation to be made the same as under the present law but with the provision that the employer will be reimbursed out of the state fund.

The fund would be established by a one percent levy on the amount employers paid out in compensation during the previous year, he said.

Answers Question What Will 4-H Club Work Do For Youth?

The 4H membership drive launched during March is making headway, according to William F. Whiteside, Assistant Farm Advisor. The question most often asked by parents. Whiteside says, is "What will 4H Club work do for my boy or girl?"

A pioneer in 4H club work, Dr. C. B. Smith answered this way: "Four H club work becomes part of the lives of rural young people while their minds are still plastic; gives them guidance when they need it; teaches them some of the inspiring things in agriculture and farm home life; and gives them a vision of its possibilities as a life work."

"Four H Club work demonstrates the best practices in agriculture and home economics to entire communities and counties by means of the projects carried by the members, by their exhibits, their fairs, their expositions, and their public demonstrations."

It develops rural leadership, community pride and spirit, builds young men and women who know how to conduct meetings, organize community projects, and who are trained to judge crops, livestock and products of the farm and home.

Four H Club work emphasizes es the home, as that is the place where the project is usually carried out, and brings parents and children increasingly together in a common interest."

Join a 4H club today. Get in touch with the local leader in your community, or the Farm Bureau office.

ILLINOIS SALES 9.1% OF NATIONAL FEBRUARY SALES

Sales of E and H Bonds in the nation in February were $448,865,615. Illinois accounted for over 9% and sales in the nation were 10% above those last February. For the months of January and February of this year total sales of $1,038,000,000 set a new ten-year record for the two-month period. National Director Earl O. Shreve announced "We have attained nearly 19% of our $5.5 billion national goal for 1955. It is most encouraging that the American people seem ever mindful of their responsibilities to themselves and their families as well as to their Government. Their response to the Savings Bond Program is a true exemplification of the ideals upon which this nation was founded."

The glare from oncoming headlights shining into the driver's eyes presents one of the greatest hazards in night driving. When a bright light shines into the eyes, it may take only one second for the pupils to contract, but their return to normal size for night driving requires about seven seconds after the lights have been removed. Even after the seven seconds, the driver may need almost a full minute before he can see as well as before being blinded. During the seven seconds of temporary blindness, a car traveling 45 miles per hour covers a distance of 462 feet.

The motor club gives the following advice in driving mountain highways: Always keep to the right half of the roadway and never drive on the inside of curves. Don't ride the brakes on long or steep down grades. Instead use the compression of the motor in either second or low gear.
